Deputy Prime Minister of Macedonia to call for EU and NATO Accession, Despite Objections from Greece

Washington, D.C. – On Thursday, June 11, Deputy Prime Minister of Macedonia Ivica Bocevski will address the National Press Club, asserting that Macedonian accession to EU and NATO should not be contingent upon resolution of the bilateral dispute with Greece over Macedonia's name. More than 120 countries, including the United States, have recognized the Republic of Macedonia under its constitutional name. However, because of Greece's objection, Macedonia did not receive an invitation for NATO membership at either of the last two NATO summits, despite having met all requirements for entry. Macedonia is fully engaged in the UN-led name negotiations in order to resolve this dispute in a mutually agreeable manner. Moreover, it is unjust to further delay the EU and NATO accession processes while awaiting resolution of this issue.

Who: Ivica Bocevski
Deputy Prime Minister of Macedonia

What: National Press Club Newsmakers Press Conference

When: Thursday, June 11, 2009
10:00 a.m. E.D.T

Where: National Press Building
529 14th St., N.W.
Lisagor Room, 13th Floor
Washington, DC

As Deputy Prime Minister of Macedonia, Ivica Bocevski is in charge of European Integration and served as the spokesman for the Macedonian Government. Prior to his work in the government, Bocevski was one of the founders and first Executive Director of the Institute for Democracy in Skopje.
